

Wildlife Bridges

Wildlife Bridges are made of thick rope to allow safe passage for the animals of Costa Rica. If a monkey or other animal climbs on a power line, they can be electrocuted or fall and get hit by cars. These bridges save over 22 different species from danger!

What animal do you think uses the bridges? Sloths, squirrel monkeys, and parrots are just a few examples.

Draw an animal using the bridge below.

